UNITED STATES CONFISCATION LAW.

An act to suppress insurrection, to punish treason and rebellion, to seize and confiscate the property of rebels, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That every person who shall hereafter commit the crime of treason against the United States, and shall be adjudged guilty thereof, shall suffer death, and all his slaves, if any, shall be declared and made free; or at the discretion of the court, he shall be imprisoned for not less than five years, and fined not less than ten thousand dollars, and all his slaves, if any, shall be declared and made free; said fine shall be levied and collected on any or all of the property, real or personal, excluding slaves, of which the said person so convicted was the owner at the time of committing the said crime, any sale or conveyance to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That if any person shall hereafter incite, set on foot, assist, or engage in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the United States, or the laws thereof, or shall give aid and comfort thereto, or shall engage in or give aid and comfort to such existing rebellion or insurrection, and be convicted thereof, such person shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years, or by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and by liberation of all his slaves, if any he have; or by both of said punishments at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That any person, guilty of either of the offences described in this act, shall be forever incapable and disqualified to hold any office under the United States.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That this act shall not be constructed in any way to affect or alter the prosecution, conviction or punishment of any person or persons guilty of treason against the United States before the passage of this act, unless such person is convicted under this act.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That to ensure the speedy termination of the present rebellion, it shall be the duty of the President of the United States to cause the seizure of all the estate and property, money, stocks, credits, and effects of the persons hereinafter named in this section, and to apply and use the same and the proceeds thereof for the support of the army of the United States, that is to say:

First—Of any person hereafter acting as an officer of the army or navy of the rebels in arms against the government of the United States.

Second—Of any person hereafter acting as President, Vice President, Member of Congress, Judge of any court, cabinet officer, foreign minister, commissioner or consul of the so called Confederate States of America.

Third—Of any person acting as Governor of a State, member of a convention or legislature, or Judge of any court of any of the so-called Confederate States of America.

Fourthly—Of any person who, having held an office of honor, trust or profit in the United States, shall hereafter hold an office in the so-called Confederate States of America.

Fifthly—Of any person hereafter holding any office or agency under the government of the so-called Confederate States of America, or under any of the several States of the said Confederacy, or the laws thereof, whether such office or agency be national, State or municipal in its name or character: Provided, That the persons thirdly, fourthly and fifthly above described shall have accepted their appointment or election since the date of the pretended ordenance of secession of the State, or shall have taken an oath of allegiance to, or to support the constitution of the so called Confederate States of America.

Sixthly—Of any peron who, owning property in any loyal State or Territory of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, shall hereafter assist or give aid and comfort to such rebellion; and all sales, transfers and conveyances of any such property, shall be null and void, and it shall be a sufficient bar to any suit brought by such person for the possession or use of such property, or any of it, to allege and prove that he is one of the persons described in this section.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That if any person within any State or Territory of the United States other than those named as aforesaid, after the passage of this act, being engaged in armed rebellion against the government of the United States, or aiding or abetting such rebellion, shall not, within sixty days after public warning and proclamation duly given and made by the President of the United States, cease to aid, countenance, and abet such rebellion, and return to his allegiance to the United States, all the estate and property, money, stocks, and credits of such persons shall be liable to seizure as aforesaid, and it shall be the duty of the President to seize and use them as aforesaid, or the proceeds thereof. And all sales, transfers, or conveyances of any such property after the expiration of the said sixty days from the date of such warning and proclamation, shall be null and void; and it shall be a sufficient bar to any suit brought by such person for the possession or the use of such property, or any of it, to allege and prove that he is one of the persons described in this section.

Sec. 7 and 8. (Prescribe the proceedings and form for the condemnation and sale of any property seized under the foregoing sections.)

Sec. 9. (Declares free the captured or escaped slaves of those who give aid or comfort to the rebellion.)

Sec. 10. (Provides that escaped slaves shall not be surrendered unless the claimant make oath of unionism loyalty.)

Sec. 11. (Authorizes the employment of "persons of African descent" for the suppression of the rebellion.)

Sec. 12. (Authorizes the President to colonize the emancipated negroes "in some tropical country, beyond the limits of the United States.")

Sec. 13. And be it further enacted, That the President is hereby authorized, after by [illegible]

VOL. I.] RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1865. [No. 288.

THE SWORD.

'Twas the battlefield; and the cold, pale moon
Looked down on the dead and dying;
And the wind passed o'er, with a dirge and a wail,
Where the young and the brave were lying.

With his father's sword in his red right hand,
And the hostile dead around him,
Lay a youthful chief; but his bed was the ground,
And the grave's icy sleep had bound him.

A reckless rover, mid death and doom,
Passed a soldier, his plunder seeking:
Careless he stepped where friend and foe
Lay alike in their life-blood reeking.

Drawn by the shine of the warrior's sword,
The soldier passed beside it:
He wrenched the hand with a giant's strength,
But the grasp of the dead defied it.

He loosed his hold, and his noble heart
Took part with the dead before him;
And he honored the brave who died sword in hand,
As with softened brow he leaned o'er him.

"A soldier's death thou hast boldly died,
A soldier's grave won by it;
Before I would take that sword from thine hand
My own life's blood should dye it,

"Thou shalt not be left for the carrion crow,
Or the wolf to fatten o'er thee;
Or the coward insult the gallant dead,
Who in life had trembled before thee."

Then dug he a grave in the crimson earth,
Where his warrior foe was sleeping;
And he laid him there, in honor and rest,
With his sword in his own brave keeping.

TAKE UP THE RUNAWAY!

RUNAWAY FROM THE SUBSCRIBER, ON THE 4TH of February, 1865, my negro man SANDERS, (or SAM.) He is about twenty-three years old, near six feet high, rather square built, but very perfect in form and action, speaks quick and distinct when spoken to, with a good set of front teeth; had on, when he left, a cap, grey pants and blue round-about coat.

It is believed this man (a dark brown color, nearly black,) is making his way to our army near Petersburg, and it may be to the enemy. Now this notice is to request all persons in and out of the army to apprehend said boy so that I get him, and I will give, for his apprehension and delivery to me, five hundred dollars in Confederate currency, or a corresponding sum, if apprehended and confined so I can get him.

WM. B. ROWE,
Yanceyville, Caswell county, N. C.
March 25, 1865. 284—5t*.

IMPORTANT LAND SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE COURT OF Equity of the County of Buncombe, made in the case of John D. Hyman and Wife, against Preston F. Patton and others, I will sell on the premises on the 8th day of April, 1865, the magnificent FARM situated in said county in the Swannanoa River, two miles south of Asheville, containing known as the Homestead of the late Fidelio Patton. It is sold for the purpose of partition. The tract of land is one of the best and most desirable in this part of the State. The land is excellent—much of it BOTTOM, and portions heavily timbered. It is convenient to the flourishing town of Asheville, and lies on the bank of one of the most beautiful streams in the world.

It is convenient to several public highways, and the Western North Carolina Rail Road will probably pass down the river on the bank opposite to it.

A better opportunity to purchase a first rate Farm could not be offered in this part of the State.

Terms made known on day of sale.

I. B. SAWYER,
C. M. E. of Buncombe County.
March 24th, 18 5. 283—tds.

$2,000 REWARD!

BROKE THE JAIL OF GRANVILLE COUNTY ON Sunday night, the 19th inst., and escaped, WILLIAM and HENDERSON, slaves of James Cooper, who were confined under sentence of death for Rape.

WILLIAM is a black, thick, heavy boy, about 25 years old, full face; about 5 feet 8 inches high.

HENDERSON is dark brown, low, heavy built, about 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high; about 23 years old.

I will pay Two Thousand dollars for their apprehension and delivery to me, or confined in any jail so I can get them, or one thousand for either.

W. A. PHILPOTT, Sheriff of Granville County.
Oxford, N. C., March 24, 1865. 49—3w*.

BOXES FOR SOLDIERS.

ALL BOXES FOR SOLDIERS OR PRISONERS OF War from North Carolina, delivered to the following named persons will be promptly forwarded free of charge:

Sprague Brothers, Salisbury.
Dr. D. F. Summey, Ashville.
Dr. W. A. Collet, Morganton.

Claims for Deceased Officers and Soldiers.

WILSON, N. C., June 20, 1864.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS BEEN APPOINTED A COMmissioner to investigate, collect and pay over to the parties entitled thereto, all claims for bounty arrearages of pay and allowances, due to the representatives of deceased officers and soldiers from this State.

The parties entitled are: first, the widow of the deceased, if any, if there be no widow then, secondly, the child or children, if there be such, if there be neither widow or children then, thirdly, the father, if there be neither widow, child, children or father then, fourthly, the mother of the deceased, and in default of all of these then, fifthly, the executor or administrator of the deceased.

The claimant or claimants must furnish his, her or their affidavit, and that of one disinterested witness as to the relationship, and in all cases, where the claimant is not the widow, the affidavit must negative the existence of a claimants of a higher order. The Justice of the Peace, before whom the affidavit is subscribed must certify to the credibility of the witness, and Clerk of the County Court must certify, under the seal of the Court, that he is a Justice of the Peace.

If the claimant or claimant be a child or children of the deceased; and he, she or they be minors, the claim must be propounded by his, her or their guardian, and the fact of his being guardian must be certified to, under seal of the County Court Clerk.

When the claims is made by an executor or administrator the fact of the executorship or seal by the County Court Clerk.

All of these papers should be sent in duplicate.

Any person directly interested will be furnished, upon application to me, with a proper form of these papers in full; a copy of which, for the greater convenience of parties, will be forwarded as soon as may be practicable to each County Court Clerk.

This commission is intended to facilitate the collection of these claims, and save the claimants all expense.

Parties interested may materially aid me in the investigation of their claims, if at the time of forwarding their paper to me, they will inform me of the date of the death of the deceased, where he died, was killed, whether or not they or any one for them, have received the personal effects which deceased had with him at the time of his death, and whether or not the deceased (if a non commissioned officer or private,) had ever received the State's bounty.

It is very desirable that all claims should be forwarded at as early as may be practicable. In all cases, give the claimants, Post Office and County in full.

RALEIGH, N. C.:
THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 30, 1865.

WE ARE WITHOUT ANY NEWS from Sherman.—He appears to be quiet at Goldsboro, arranging and fitting up for his next movement. He has thrown some troops forward we learn in the direction of Wilson, but we presume, he will require some days to rest his fatigued and badly fed army. Had he advanced upon Raleigh and gone west, his army must have perished for want of bread. We doubt if he and Gen. Johnston could have procured enough food in Wake, Chatham, Orange, Alamance, &c., to have subsisted both armies three days; and as Gen. Johnston would have been in front, he would have left nothing for Sherman. Every thing has been quiet for a week upon Gen. Johnston's lines. He is of course getting every thing in readiness for the invaders.

The entire situation seems to be forcing every available man of the enemy upon Gen. Lee's front or rear. The movement in East Tennessee looks like an advance upon Lynchburg. There are probabilities however, that Stoneman may attempt to reach Western North Carolina. We hope our forces in that region will be so arranged as to dispose of him before he crosses the mountains.

THE ILLEGAL AND WHOLESALE robberies which have been perpetrated upon our people, in the last two or three weeks, by persons claiming to belong to the army, and to be impressing by order of our commanders, excites universal reprobation and disgust. Scarcely a county in this section has escaped these ubiquitous rogues, who have found their way into every hole and corner, and taken from the poor and rich, horses, mules and other property, depriving many of the means of subsistence and of the means to make a crop. As a general rule, we believe, they profess to be attached to "Wheeler's cavalry," when it is well known that that able officer and his subordinates know nothing of them, and they have been acting without orders from any responsible person.

Gov. Vance determined as soon as the facts were brought to his knowledge to put a stop to it, and at once dispatched a note to Gen Johnston, requesting his aid in arresting and punishing the offenders. Gen. Johnston immediately replied as follows:

"If the perpetrators of illegal impressments are pointed out, they shall be punished. If the property so impressed is identified, it shall be restored. The aid of the people of the country is necessary and I ask yours. I am anxious to protect citizens against robbery."

Gov. Vance requests us to urge upon all the people in the counties where these robberies are committed, that in every case where the persons so impressing without proper authority can be reached, to shoot them down if possible, but if they make their escape then to follow them to whatever camp or point they go, in order to identity them and to make known to the officers of the commands to which they profess to belong, their depredations. Use every effort to obtain their names and the name of the command to which they profess to belong, in order that they may be punished and the property they have stolen may be restored.

We learn that Major Edmondston, assisted by Capts. J. B. Goolse and J. N. Nichols, and Major Landis of the army, and Capt. Morgan of the C. S. Navy, are the only officers in this State, who have proper authority to impress animals for the service. Beyond these let all others be dealt with.

After receiving the foregoing note from General Johnston, Gov. Vance determined to call out the Home Guard of the second class, to perform duty in their several counties, for the purpose, if possible, of putting a stop to these robberies, upon which the Progress of this city makes an ill-natured and characteristic attack upon Gov. Vance, and raises the senseless cry that he wants to stop the newspapers. If the history of the past year does not vindicate Gov. Vance's devotion to the fullest freedom of the press, what can? If after bearing all the personal abuse which could be heaped upon a public officer from a licentious press for months, together with the utterance and constant reiteration of the most depreciating and injurious slang gainst the government and against the Southern cause, after what he has done to prevent summary proceedings against the conductors of such presses, does not prove his devotion to that principle, then no other defence can avail, and we shall make none.

It may be well however, to correct one idea which seems to prevail among some of those connected with the public press. Because Congress and the Legislature have shown a becoming anxiety to keep up the press, in order that the people and the public interests may be served, many persons connected with the press, seem to imagine that they are privileged characters, that Congress and the Legislature intended to show them some special favor, and that of course they are to be excused entirely from the burdens of the war, where as the object of Congress was not to make editors and printers a privileged class, but to promote the public welfare. Why should a printer be exempted from this burden more than any other man, a farmer or other mechanic, who has a family to support?

But it is objected that Gov. Vance was about to put the editors and printers in camp. For several days efforts had been made to get a sufficient Home Guard force together to act efficiently in the service required, but every attempt had failed. The list of the second class Home Guard was large enough to justify the belief that if only those remained at home who were absolutely necessary for the press and other employments, a sufficient number could be obtained. Hence the order calling all out, so that all the hangers on and the supernumeraries about the printing offices and elsewhere, might be brought into the service. The order was a proper one. Indeed, if it had been necessary to suspend the papers for a few days, in order to break up the robbing and depredations committed in the country, the public would more readily have dispensed with them, than with their horses and mules. When the public necessity requires it, editors and printers are the last men in the country who ought to complain of a few days military duty. As good men and better men have borne the burden of the war while they have been kept at home.

In the absence of more interesting matter, we transfer to our columns the confiscation act of the Lincoln Congress. From this, them who desire to abandon the contest and to submit to the demands of our enemies, may learn what is to be the probable fate of every Southern man.

CAPT. EDWARD A. T. NICHOLSON, of Halifax county, late Inspector General of Lane's Brigade, but who had been recently assigned to duty as Assistant Adjutant General of Johnston's Brigade, was, we are pained to learn, killed at Petersburg on Saturday morning last.

CAPT. MILLS L. EURE, Senator in the North Carolina Legislature from Gates and Chowan, and who has been a prisoner since the battle of Gettysburg, has been paroled and has returned home.

THE CONSCRIPT OFFICE for North Carolina has been removed from Raleigh to Greensboro, and officers on conscript service are notified to report to that place.

We publish in another column, Gen. Cooper's order, explaining the recent law passed by the Confederate Congress, for enlisting negro troops into our service.

THE TRANSPORTATION office in this city has been, removed from the Guion House to the depot of the N. C Railroad company.

TO THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS IN GENERAL J. E JOHNSTON'S ARMY. A regular Post Master having been appointed to serve in this army the better to facilitate the delivery of mails, parties writing to officers or soldiers of this command will be particular to give as address, the Company, Regiment, Brigade or staff on which they may be serving and say "Johnston's Army" as destination.

ENGLAND'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR AFRICAN SLAVERY IN AMERICA.

Lord John Russell having thought proper, in a speech recently made in Parliament, to denounce the institution of slavery, as it exists in this country, as disgraceful to the Confederate States; it would be well, if the following historical facts could be brought to his attention; proving that whatever of criminality and infamy may be attached to slavery as it exists here, rests upon the British Government and people, by whom it was forced upon us:

Four companies were chartered by the British Government, to carry on the African slave trade.—See Brit. Encyclop, under the head of companies, vol. 5, page 226. Of one of these companies Queen Elizabeth, and probably all her ministers, were members, and derived heavy profits from the traffic.

The Royal African Trading company erected a large building in Thread Needle street, London, then called the "South Sea House," for the purpose of an exclusive trade to the South Sea, and for supplying America with negroes. See Brit. Encyclo, vol. 20, page 250, in an account of the great buildings of London,

In 1751, on expedition was sent from England to capture Lewistown and the Island of Gone, in the Senegal river, to secure to England the traffic in slaves and gum, from that part of Africa. See 12 vol. of history of England, by Hume, Smollett, &c., page 279.

In 1712 Queen Anne boasted in a speech to Parliament, that she had, by the Treaty of Uirecht, "obtained for her subjects, the assiento or contract, for furnishing the Spanish West Indies for thirty years, as it had been enjoyed by the French, (see vol. 10, page 230, Hume's England.) "The assiento contract stipulated that from the 1st May, 1713, to the 1st May, 1743 the company should transport into the West Indies, 144,000 negroes, at the rate of 4,800 negroes a year, and pay for each negro, thirty three pieces of eight and one-third, in full for all royal duties." See page 267, vol. 10, Hume's England.

When the American revolution broke out, 3,000 sailors, most of whom had been engaged in the African Slave Trade, were, by that event, thrown out of employment, at the single port of Liverpool. Page 230, vol. 15, History of England.

In 1778, the Duke of Richmond stated in Parliament, that the number of ships that had been annually engaged in the African trade previous to the American war, was 200, of the value of £9.000 each, that the number had been reduced to 40 causing an annual loss to Britain of £1,440.000. See page 497, of the 15 vol. of the History of England.

The ratification of the Treaty of peace, made at Paris on the 10th February, 1783, between France and England, was objected to in England, on the ground that one of its provisions would prevent the English from enjoying the whole profits of the trade in African slaves. See 14 vol., page 76, History of England.

Before the American revolution, acts were passed by the Colonial Legislatures, of New York, New Jersey, South Carolina, and no less than 23 by that of Virginia, to suppress the slave trades; all of which were vetoed by the British Government, on the ground that they would diminish the profits of their subjects from this traffic.

In the enumeration of the misdeeds of the King, the preamble of the Constitution of Virginia, adopted by the Convention of Virginia in 1776, are the following words: "By prompting our negroes to rise in arms among us, those very negroes, whom by an inhuman use of his negative, he had refused us permission to exclude by law."

The British people and Government are therefore responsible before God and man, for the existence of slavery here, and whatever odium may be attached to it must rest on them. M.

OLD PROVERBS ABOUT WOMEN.

As the good man saith, so say we; but as the good woman saith, so it must be.

[The French express the last idea more strongly —Que femme veut, Dieu le veut—(What woman wills, God wills.)]

A little house well filled, a little land well tilled, and a little wife well willed.

All women are good—good for something or good for nothing.

A virtuous woman, though ugly, is the ornament of a house.

An obedient wife commands her husband.

A man's best fortune—or his worst—is a wife.

An enemy to beauty is a foe to nature.

All are good lasses; but where comes the ill wives frae?

A woman conceals what she knows not.

A lass that has many wooers oft fares the worst.

A man must ask his wife leave to thrive.

Fools are wise men in the affairs of women.

Every man can tame a shrew but he that hath her.

Bare walls make gabbing housewives.

The good wife is the workmanship of a good husband. [And vice versa.]

Choose a wife rather by your ear than your eye.

Many blame the wife for their own thriftless life.

Women laugh when they can, and weep when they will.

Beauty in woman is like the flowers in Spring, but virtue is like stars in heaven.

No woman is ugly when she is dressed.

ADJ'T & INSP'R GEN'S. OFFICE,
Richmond, Va., March 28, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 14.

I. The following act of Congress and regulations are published for the information and direction of all concerned:

AN ACT to increase the military force of the Confederate States.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That in order to provide additional forces to repel invasion, maintain the rightful possession of the Confederate States, secure their independence preserve their institutions, the President be, and he is hereby authorized to ask for and accept from the owners of slaves the services of such number of able-bodied negro men as he may deem expedient, for and during the war, to perform military service in whatever capacity he may direct.

Sec. 2. That the General-in-Chief be authorized to organize the said slaves into companies, battalions, regiments and brigades, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of War may prescribe, and to be commanded by such officers as the President may appoint.

Sec. 3. That while employed in the service, the said troops shall receive the same rations, clothing and compensation as are allowed to other troops in the same branch of the service.

Sec. 4. That if, under the previous sections of this act, the President shall not be able to raise a sufficient number of troops to prosecute the war successfully, and maintain the sovereignty of the States and the independence of the Confederate States, then he is hereby authorized to call on each State, whenever he thinks it expedient, for her quota of three hundred thousand troops, in addition to those subject to military service under existing laws, or so many thereof as the President may deem necessary to be raised from such classes of of population, irrespective of color, in each State, as proper authorities thereof may determine. Provided, That not more than twenty-five per cent. of the male slaves between the ages of eighteen and forty five, in any State, shall be called for under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 5. That nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize a change in that relation which the said slaves shall bear towards their owners except by consent of the owners and in the States in which they may reside, and in pursuance of the laws thereof.

Approved, March 13th, 1865.

II. The recruiting service under this act will be conducted under the supervision of the Adjutant and Inspector General, according to the regulations for the recruiting service of the regular army, in so far as they are applicable and except when special directions may then be given by the War Department.

III. There will be assigned or appointed for each State, an officer who will be charged with the collection, enrollment and disposition of all recruits that may be obtained under the first rection of this act. One or more general depots will be established in each State and announced in orders and a suitable number of officers will be detailed for duty in the Staff departments at the depots.—There will be assigned at each general depot a Quartermaster, Commissary and Surgeon, and the headquarters of the Superintendent will be at the principal depot in the State. The proper officers to aid the superintendent in enlisting, mustering, and organizng the recruits will be assigned by orders from this office or by the General in Chief

IV. The enlistment of colored persons under this act will be made upon printed forms, to be furnished for the purpose, similar to those established for the regular service. They will be executed in duplicate, one copy to be returned to this office for file. No slave will be accepted as a recruit unless with his own consent and with the approbation of his master by a written instrument conferring, as far as he may, the rights of a freed man, and which shall be filed with the Superintendent. The enlistments will be made for the war, and the effect of the enlistment will be to place the slaves in the military service conformably to this act. The recruits will be organized at the camps in squads and companies, and will be subject to the orders of the General-in-Chief under the second section of this act.

V. The Superintendent in each State will cause a report to be made on the first Monday of every month, the number of recruits at the various depots in the State; the number that have been sent away, and the destination of each. His reports will show the names of all the slaves recruited, with their age, description and the names of their masters. One copy will be sent to the General-in-Chief, and one to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

VI. The appointment of officers to the companies to be formed of the recruits aforesaid, will be made by the President.

VII. To facilitate the raising of volunteer companies, officers recruiting therefor are authorized to muster their men into service as enrolled.—As soon as enrolled and mustered, the men will be sent, with descriptive lists, to the depots of rendezvous, at which they will be instructed until assigned for service in the field. When the organization of any company remains incomplete at the expiration of the time specified for its organization, the companies or detachments already mustered into service will be assigned to other organizations at the direction of the General-in-Chief.

VIII. It is not the intention of the President to grant any authority for raising regiments or brigades. The only organizations, to be perfected at the depots or camps of instruction, are those of companies, and in exceptional cases, where the slaves are of one estate, of battalions consisting of four companies, and the only authorities to be issued will be for the raising of companies or the aforesaid special battalions of four companies. All large organizations will be left for further action as experience may determine.

IX. All officers who may be employed in the recruiting service, under the provisions of this act, or who may be appointed to the command of the troops raised under it, or who may hold any staff appointment in connection with them are enjoined to a provident, considerate and humane attention to whatever concerns the health, comfort, instruction and discipline of those troops, and to the uniform observance of kindness, forbearance and indulgence in their treatment of them, and especially that they will protect them from injustice and oppression,

By order.
Signed. S. COOPER.

Among the inventions patened last year, at the Confederate States Patent Office, were the following:

C. Williams, of St. Lewis, Missouri, has two patents for submarine boats, and two for torpedoes,

Thomas C. Brown, of Virginia, for sugar cane crusher.

John Lewis, Greensboro', North Carolina patent for machine for ginning, carding and spinning cotton.

R. S. Sanxay and A. Gomert, Richmond, Virginia, photographic process for duplicating maps.

W. N. Smith, Richmond, Va., percussion cap rammer.

C. W. and J. H. Wells Charlotte, Va., patent for artificial leg.

C. E. Stuart, Owing & Taylor, patent for instruments for fixing sight to cannon.

Women are wise on a sudden, fools on premeditation.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS.

[OF THE SOUTHERN PRESS ASSOCIATION.]

Entered according to act of Congress, in the year 1861, by J S. THRASHER, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Confederate States of the Northern District of Georgia.

Official from Gen. Lee.

RICHMOND, March 28.

The following was received to-day:

HEAD QUARTERS, March 28.

HON. J. C. BRECKINRIDGE, Secretary of War:

Gen. Gordon informes me that in his report of the action at Harris' Hill on the twenty-fifth, he omitted to mention Lt. Col. H. P. Jones commanding the artillery on that position of the lines, was at the front superintending in person the operations of the artillery and that a select body of officers and men under the command of Lt. Col. Stribbling charged the enemy's breastworks with the sharpshooters of his corps and immediately turned upon the enemy the captured guns.

(Signed,) R. E. LEE.

"LADY OF THE LAKE," (Burlesque), and a farce entitled "Playing out of the Army," was performed last night, (Wednesday), to great astonishment.—We understand both pieces were written by the favorite actor Jamie R. Blanchard—our Jemie.—On last night they gave a benefit of five hundred dollars to the Baptist Church Hospital, which will be seen in another column.

Let them have the hall as long as they prove what they profess to be. 288—1t*.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a regular communication of I. E. Avery Military Lodge, No 1, F. A. M., held at Camp Godwin, Va., Feb. 27th, A. L. 5865, A. D. 1865 the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, to remove from among us our much esteemed brother and friend, WILLIE A. DAMERON, Co. H, 6th N. C, Regiment, who died of Typhoid Fever at Winder Hospital Virginia.

Resolved, That in his death this Lodge mourns the loss of a valuable member and the country a gallant defender.

Resolved, That while we, as a lodge do, most sincerely lament his early removal; yet we would humbly bow before our Supreme Grand Master, and kiss his chastening rod.

Resolved, That we tender to the surviving companion, children, aged mother and friends, our warmest sympathies in their severe affliction, and point them to Jesus, who never sends the bereaved away uncomforted, that confide in him.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the N. C. Confederate, with a request that the other city papers copy, and that they be spread upon the records of this Lodge.

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to furnish a copy to the family of the deceased in Caswell county, N. C.

X. NO EXEMPTIONS FROM DUTY IN THE GUARD for Home Defence for mental or physical disability will be valid except those granted by the District Boards regularly appointed in orders issued from this office, and all exemptions heretofore granted by irregular Conscript Boards, such as that of Drs. Walker and Smith, when only the latter was a regular member of the Board—are declared void. All persons holding such exemptions must appear before the regular Boards for re-examination, or they will be assigned to duty in the 1st Class."
